THE M. M. WYKES CO.
2335 WASHINGTON AVE.POULTRYMEN GIVEN
RIDE TO HERMITAGE IN THE CANYON

Ogden was visited today by one of the most distinguished parties of easterners that has stopped over here, while on a transcontinental trip, being composed of the officers of the American Poultrymen's association, with their ladies, and a number of editors of well known poultry journals. Prominent among the officers were President E. B. Thompson of New York; Vice President E. E. Peters of Denver; Secretary S. T. Campbell of Ohio and members of the executive committee. One of the best known journalists in the party was Grant M. Curtis, editor of the Reliable Poultry Journal. In all, the party numbered about 50, including 15 ladies.

They arrived in the city at 7:15 o'clock on the Pacific Limited and were met at the depot by President Wilford L. Bramwell of the Utah Poultrymen's association; Postmaster W. W. Browning and City Ticket Agent Paul Beemer, of the Union Pacific. A special canyon car over the line of the Ogden, Logan and Idaho railway had been arranged for by General Agent W. H. Chevers of the Union Pacific to accommodate the visitors with a trolley ride into Ogden canyon. Immediately after they were welcomed at the depot, they were escorted to the canyon car and were taken to the Idelwild resort, where they remained for about a half hour to enjoy the scenery.

Returning to the city, the party breakfasted at the Union Depot hotel and was then taken to the Weber club, where they were entertained by Messrs. Bramwell and Poulter. Shortly after 10 o'clock, the visitors departed for Salt Lake City and were scheduled to return to Ogden late this afternoon to go west on Southern Pacific train No. 5.

While at the Weber club, members of the party stated that their entertainment was greatly appreciated, the canyon trip having given them an opportunity of seeing some of the finest scenery in America, in their opinion. Of the city, one of the visitors said that it was "a mighty clean town," and appeared to be very progressive. This opinion seemed to be general and when Postmaster Browning informed the speaker that Ogden won the prize last year for being the cleanest city in the state, the answering comment was that "it seemed to have been well awarded."

It was also stated by some of the magazine writers in the party, that the city, Ogden canyon, the Weber club and Messrs. Bramwell and Browning would be prominently mentioned in their stories of the trip to San Francisco.

SOCIAL GATHERINGS

The relief society ladies of Plain City have inaugurated an interesting and original plan of caring for the needy of the ward and they say they are certain that it will prove more effective and pleasing than any other they have adopted.

In all the wards of the Mormon church deacons, teachers and other minor officials, keep in close touch with those in the ward who need assistance, and the relief society officials also watch over the needy. The information from these officers is transmitted to the relief society and the organization proceeds immediately to supply of food and clothing in a formal way.

The new plan adopted by the Plain City ladies is to distribute the things needed at a social and religious gathering at the homes of the deserving ones. The society arranges for a picnic party at the home of some one who needs assistance on the regular meeting day of the organization and a social program, in connection with the picnic luncheon, is given. The brief religious services of the society are given, and when the social-religious function is over, the good woman of the humble home finds plenty left over to supply the family needs a week or ten days sometimes more. The supply left at the home consists of foodstuffs and clothing.

The Plain City society will meet with a poor family of the ward each week during the winter months, and oftener if necessary.

SHORTAGE IN CARS ON WESTERN ROADS

Salt Lake, Nov. 12.—Probably the most serious car shortage which has ever confronted the railroads of the intermountain country is now at its height. The Oregon Short Line and the Denver & Rio Grande are both short of cars. The Oregon Short Line cannot move the great grain crops along its lines. For the first time in the history of the Utah sugar industry, beets are being loaded into box cars. The gondolas used in the beet trade are in great demand in the east on account of the heavy steel and munitions shipments.

The closing of the Panama canal has forced the Oregon Short Line to send most of its ox cars east, and the railroads there are holding them and paying demurrage in order to give transportation facilities to their patrons.

The Denver & Rio Grande is short of cars for the Utah coal fields. It was thought there would be sufficient cars on the Denver & Rio Grande to handle the coal traffic from Emery and Carbon counties but the road failed to get all it needed. The cool weather of the past few days has resulted in a big increase in orders and the operating department is getting all coal cars unloaded as rapidly as possible and sending them to the coal fields.

In order that the Wyoming fields shall have all the cars necessary to move the coal traffic, the Union Pacific system will seek bids on 1,000 steel cars within ten days. The heavy local and short-haul traffic of the Union Pacific and Denver & Rio Grande is held responsible in a great measure by these roads for the car shortage.

They spent most of the summer months in the vicinity of Afion, Wyo., estimating merchantable timber. The recent heavy fall of snow stopped their operations, but they report a successful year's work. Herman Work, of the silviculture department of the forest service, has returned from the Uinta forest reserve where he has been engaged for some time estimating the timber supply on Black's Fork. He will remain at headquarters during the winter.

It is reported at headquarters that the recent snowfall covered practically all of the forest lands of the Fourth district and that much good has resulted. The storm is of benefit to the ranges.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL BOY HAS BEEN CAPTURED

Officers of the state Industrial school returned to Ogden last evening with Weir Reid, an escaped inmate of the school who was arrested at Garfield by Salt Lake county officers and the boy will be turned over to the courts for prosecution for stealing a horse and buggy belonging to Lawrence Brown of Pleasant View. The young man is 20 years old and it is the opinion of the officers and the superintendent of the industrial school, that he should be punished for grand larceny.

A week ago last Sunday, Reid and a boy named Wiggins escaped from the school. On the same night two girls, Florence Lowe and Blanche Love, also escaped, the Wiggins boy voluntarily returning to the school a few nights after.

Last Sunday night Cragun Brothers' store of Pleasant View was burglarized and a horse and buggy of Lawrence Brown was stolen from the church premises a short distance from the store, since which time officers have been seeking clues as to who committed the burglary, and the Industrial school officers have been looking for Reid and the two girls.

It has been the opinion of the officers that the escaped inmates of the school stole the horse and buggy and also burglarized the store. Their suspicions have been strengthened by the fact that Reid had a horse and buggy in his possession when he was arrested at Garfield. It is said that the description of the outfit is much the same as that of the horse and buggy belonging to Brown of Pleasant View.

Chief Deputy Sheriff J. L. Hebron stated this afternoon that Weir Reid, the industrial school boy who escaped from the school about ten days ago, has confessed to burglarizing the Cragun Brothers' store at Pleasant View and also to the theft of Lawrence Brown's horse and buggy last Sunday night. He also states that the girls who escaped at the same time, Florence Lowe and Blanche Love, were associated with him in the depredations.
